To Consider:	With the limited time in class, parents must commit to working at home to adequately prepare child for Kindergarten.	For children with a robust play schedule and extra-curricular activities, this class prepares them with the beginning academics and habits needed for kindergarten.	This class is for children who flourish in school and love the routine, but still need a nap or a lot of down-time.	This class is for students with a solid recall of letters/sounds/ numbers and are prepared to sit in circle 3+ times a day, can listen to a story and answer questions, can follow directions, have a natural curiosity AND can go long periods without rest.
